Agenda

- Welcome and introductions
- Our current budget climate
- Overview of our two levies
  - Educational Programs & Operations Levy (EP&O)
  - Building Excellence VI Capital Levy (BEX VI)
- Questions and answers: submit your levy questions in the Q&A box in Teams

About SPS School Levies

Local property taxes used to fund public schools

- Must be approved by voters
- All funding stays in Seattle to support our students and schools
- Not new taxes
  - If approved, these levies continue current funding sources
- Collected at a fixed amount for either 3 years or 6 years

Two SPS Education Levies Up for Renewal

Educational Programs & Operations Levy (EP&O) renewal

- Provides day-to-day operations not fully funded by by state
- Funds staff positions, special education, and programs and opportunities for students such as athletics, drama, and art

Capital Levy renewal

 Main source of funding for safety and security improvements, technology, and school building replacement, renovation, and repair

If Seattle School Board approves on Nov. 19, these levy renewals will be on the Feb. 11, 2025, ballot

K-12 Funding in Seattle

- School districts are funded through state, local, and federal dollars.
- $191.1 million or 15.6 percent of the District's 2024-25 General Fund comes from voter-approved local levy funding.

2024-25 Budgeted Resources by Type

percentages may not total to 100% due to rounding

Current SPS Funding Deficit

$1.2 billion yearly budget and a $94 million deficit

- Why?
  - Continued underfunding from the state
  - Costs to operate have increased
  - Increased needs
    - security
    - Special Education services
    - multi-language learners
    - substitutes
    - o more

Current SPS Funding Deficit

- Making significant cuts to help close shortfall.
- Continuing to work with state legislators to find statewide funding solutions

- In addition to considering school consolidations:
  - Reduced reserves to cover current costs
  - Salary cuts for non-represented staff; reductions in central office staff and expenses
  - Reduced school staffing and discretionary allocations
  - Implemented fees, including voluntary athletic fees for families

Renewal of the Educational Programs & Operations Levy (EP&O)

Educational Programs and Operations Levy

Helps continue funding for day-to-day educational programs and services not fully funded by the state

- Student safety and support: Funds salaries, including school security, special education, and multilingual support staff
- Student services and programs: Ensures continued funding for special education, healthy student meals, and student transportation
- Student opportunities: Supports student activities such as athletics, arts, music, and drama

Restrictions on EP&O Levies

State Law

- Limits amount school districts may collect
- Amount has changed
  - Washington Supreme Count decision in McCleary v. State and subsequent changes in state law further restricted the amount school districts can ask for in local taxes

Our Financial Ask

- Request maximum allowed plus additional amount in case state increases limit during 3-year levy
- Extra amount not collected unless authorized by state Legislature

Example of the Funding Gap

Security Staff

The state funds 9.3 security specialists for Seattle Public Schools.

Levy funds are used to provide an additional 63.7 security specialists for a total of 73.

Special Education

To ensure our 7,809 students who need special education services have the supports they need, we spend $224 million per year for special education.

The state provides $150 million.

That's a $74 million gap.

Athletics

The state provides zero funding for middle and high school athletics.

The levy funds coaches, field rentals, equipment, and transportation to ensure our students have access to after-school sports.

$5.5M
